Douloufakis Winery

Nikos Douloufakis is following the family winemaking tradition in the footsteps of his father and grandfather. He's adding a modern twist, using state-of-the-art technology and producing high quality wines made of Cretan indigenous and international varieties.

Here are some of our wines:

- "ENOTRIA", white, rosé and red - a series of blends made of indigenous and international varieties.
- "DAFNIOS", white and red - single-varietal wines from Vidiano and Liatiko Cretan varieties, respectively.
- "ALARGO", white and red - single-varietal wines from Assyrtiko and Syrah grapes, respectively.
- "ASPROS LAGOS", white and red - also single-varietal wines, made of Vidiano and Cabernet Sauvignon grapes, respectively.
- "AMPHORA", white and red - single-varietal wines from Vidiano, Liatiko and Muscat White of Spina grapes, that have been fermented in traditional Cretan jars (pithoi).

The high quality Douloufakis wines are produced from excellent grapes, grown in Dafnes, located in the heart of the wine-growing zone of Crete.

OUR VINEYARDS

Our privately owned vineyards are situated in the heart of wine-growing zone of Crete, in Dafnes of Heraklion, on hill slopes at an altitude of 350 - 450 meters. The terroir of the Dafnes region is characterized of limestone soil and the prevailing microclimate is considered ideal for producing high quality grapes. Thus, it is no coincidence that Dafnes region has a long viticulture history, according to written records, since the Venetian rule in Crete.
